Vanished Greatness of Halicz.
Halicz is one of those Galician towns with a past record grander than its present appearance warrants. Excavations made in the suburbs toward the end of the last century disclosed extensive remains which proved it to have been at one time a great city, whose existence was not dependent, as now, upon brine wells. The theory which accounts for the decay of a town that once formed the headquarters of the Prince of Halicz is that destruction overtook it during the first great Mongol invasion.—London Chronicle.

tal savings depositors numbered 650, 000, and had $194,200,000 to their credit.

oners 189 officers and 19,338 men and

London, Nov. 20.—Monastir, in Southern Serbia, was evacuated by the German and Bulgarian forces which have been defending it against the Entente armies.

French and Serbian troops immediately occupied the city. By this move the Serbians, who for months have been without a country, are enabled to re-establish their capital on their native soil.

The French and Serbians having captured the crest of hills partly surrounding the valley town, the Germans found their position untenable and withdrew, according to Berlin, to a new position north of Monastir.

Unofficial advices from Saloniki say a temporary capital of Serbia will immediately be established at Monastir.
With the re-occupation of Monastir the railway line from the Entente Allied base at Saloniki now is in Entente hands.

To the east and southeast of Monastir the French and Serbian troops continue to make gains in the Cerna river region against the Teutonic allies.

Teuton Armies Gain.
On the Transylvanian front the Austro-German armies at almost all points continue to make progress against the Russian and Roumanian forces or to hold them back without gains when they attack.

The latest reports from Berlin say the Teutonic allies have forced the narrow mountain passes leading to the Wallachian plain of Roumania. Bucharest reports a Roumanian advance in the region of Dragoslavele.

From Nov. 1 to Dec. 18 the Austro-Germans are said to have made prisoners 189 officers and 19,338 men and to have captured twenty-six guns, seventy-two machine guns and seventeen ammunition cars.

Lively infantry and artillery actions are taking place in the Dobrudja region on the eastern bank of the Danube about forty miles southwest of the Tchernavoda-Constanza railway.

Bad weather is hampering operations on the Western front in France.
Berlin says that in fighting over a front of seven and a half miles the British met with a sanguinary reverse.
Except for insignificant gains southwest of Serre and near Grandcourt. A French attack south of Sailly-Saillies met with a similar repulse.

EXTENSIVE FRAUDS FOUND

Federal Officials Investigating Indiana Election.

Gary, Ind., Nov. 20.—Election records here are in possession of federal officials.

Seven saloonkeepers and a lawyer are under summons to appear as witnesses before a federal grand jury.

Government agents have been investigating frauds under the direction of Frank C. Daley of Indianapolis, special prosecutor.

Seizing of election records is taken here to mean that federal authorities believe they have evidence of fraud which may involve high officials here.

Charges of intimidating saloonkeepers by threatening to revoke their licenses, tampering with ballot boxes and other irregular practices have been flying between political enemies here since Nov. 7.

Mrs. Jones was much perturbed by "Jacob," said she to her husband as she read, "I call this downright cruel."

"What's the matter?" asked Jacob.

"Why, in this letter Mary tells me never used any club on my offspring!"

SINGING PLEASED MUSICAL CLUB

Miss Hazel Fauley, of Cloquet, heard in Soprano Recital at Elks Hall Saturday

HAS SWEET, CHARMING VOICE

Hostesses Were Mrs. Joseph Nicholson and Miss Anna Michaelson of this City

Miss Hazel Fauley, soprano of Cloquet, was the soloist at the Brainerd Musical club meeting Saturday afternoon, the hostesses being Mrs. Joseph Nicholson and Miss Anna Michaelson. The attendance was good, over 150 ladies being present.

Miss Fauley has a voice of rare, charming sweetness and a pleasing personality, so that her audience was charmed when they heard the first notes of her song. She was repeatedly encored.

She rose to her greatest heights in interpretation in Herman Loehr's "I Dream of a Garden of Sunshine" and in "Osteria," by Giuseppe Tillo.

Miss Fauley was assisted by two Brainerd musicians. Her accompanist was Miss I. Mildred Skauge, who gained fresh laurels by her sympathetic playing.

Miss Skauge and Miss Gladys Nitterauer were heard in the concert piece, "Capriccio Brilliant," by Mendelssohn, and surmounted its technical difficulties with ease.

MISSIONARY RALLY

At Presbyterian Church This Evening When Miss Sarah M. Edes Speaks

There will be a missionary rally this evening at the Presbyterian church when Miss Sarah M. Edes will speak of her work on the Mesaba and Vermilion ranges.

Her talk will be illustrated by lantern slides and a stereopticon showing just the nature of the work attempted on those ranges by the board of home missions. A Victrola will also be there to furnish music for the occasion. Both stereopticon and Victrola are furnished by the H. P. Michael Co., and will be an entertaining part of the program.

Miss Edes comes highly recommended as a profitable speaker to hear. It is hoped that a large number may be present tonight. No admission is charged but an offering will be taken which will go for the local missionary society.

The Cutty Stool.

The cutty stool was the seat of repentance formerly employed in the Scottish church for the exposure of offenders against the moral law. The transgressor, having been deprived of church ordinances and duly taken to task privately, was then compelled to make a public acknowledgment of the misdeed prior to being restored to favor. Each culprit did penance by occupying the cutty stool in the presence of the whole congregation and was openly lectured by the minister on the enormity of the offense.

FOR YOUNG FOLKS

Sleepy Time Story About a Boy Who Was Nearly Lost.

HOW IT ALL CAME ABOUT.

An Amusing Incident That Caused Some Alarm For a Time—Where the Missing Youngster Was Finally Discovered—A Russian Princess.

Tonight, said Uncle Ben to little Ned and Polly Ann, I am going to tell you about A LOST BOY.

When I was a boy we lived on a farm, and my father had a large barn in which the children liked to play. I'll never forget the fun I used to have when I was a boy climbing up the haymow.

Our barn was quite a little way from the house, and father seldom locked it. One afternoon mother said that a neighbor spoke of having seen tramps going by, and after that he thought he would lock up the barn.

That afternoon we had a glorious game of robbers' cave in the barn. Our children and the children of two or three neighbors were there.

When it was nearly supper time we stopped playing. The other children got ready to go home, and we, too, started to the house.

"Where's Billy?" some one said. Billy was a three-year-old neighbor and had come with his sister, who was my sister's chum.

"Oh, Billy must have gone home," said his sister. "He would want something to eat before this." Then we said good night very merrily and went our ways.

It was almost dark, and a little later our father came in after having fed the animals and locked the barn.

We were just sitting down to supper when some one knocked at the door.

It was Billy's mother, and she was crying. "Oh, my little boy is lost! Hat-to says he came home when the children were playing together, but I haven't seen him. We've searched everywhere, and now my husband is going down to look in the creek."

"Cheer up," father said heartily. "The creek is too shallow to drown a cat. Sit down a bit and tell us all about it."

Father asked if any of us had noticed Billy start home. No one could remember to have seen him.

"I'll go with a lantern and take a look around the barn," said father.

We all followed him, and, though we looked in every corner, we could not see any traces of Billy. We noticed Don, our neighbor's dog, hunting about. After awhile he went up into the haymow and began scratching and whining. After he had tossed the hay to one side we saw what he was after. Little Billy, tired out with play, had gone to sleep under the hay, which he had drawn over himself in our game of hide and seek.

With but little deviation from the popular American game, baseball is played in Russia, but there it is known as lutka.

BE PLEASANT.

Amid the rush and bustle of life let us take time to be pleasant. The small courtesies, which we often omit because they are small, will some day look larger to us than the wealth which we have coveted or the fame for which we have struggled. And it costs nothing to be pleasant.

INDOOR GARDENS.

You May Have Foliage In Your Home All Winter.

HOW TO COMBINE PLANTS.

Experts Instruct Us That Flower Boxes Must Have Good Drainage and House Plants Be Watered Lightly and Frequently Rather Than Heavily.

[Prepared by department of agriculture.]

A good depth for an indoor window box is about eight inches. The bottom of the box should be covered with stones and broken pottery for drainage. This should be covered with a layer of moss to prevent the soil from working down and clogging the drainage spaces. The drainage and moss should take up together about two inches. The greater the body of soil above the moss the more uniformly moist it may be kept. The soil should fall to fill the box by from one and one-half to two inches.

The indoor window box should be as long as the window is wide, and to get as much light as possible it should be level with the window sill. It may be placed either on brackets, a table or legs permanently fastened to it. A hole or holes should be provided in the bottom of the box, and a drip pan should be placed beneath to catch drainage water.

The top of the soil should be allowed to become dry occasionally. The results of watering should be closely observed and the supply regulated according to needs. In general it is better to water lightly and frequently than heavily and infrequently, although just the reverse is considered best when watering is done out of doors in summer.

Only plants of the same general character should be placed in window boxes since plants of different kinds require different treatment. Begonias are about the only plants that may be expected to flower in a window box. For the most part foliage alone must be depended upon as the contribution of the indoor plants to the attractiveness of the room. Among the plants which may be grown for foliage for window boxes are ferns, geraniums, Kentworth ivy, smilax and aspidistra. The latter plant is especially valuable as a window box plant, as it will thrive in spite of considerable neglect, drought and dust.

An advantage in growing plants in pots instead of in boxes is that a larger variety can be grown since different treatment may be given. In addition to the plants already mentioned for growing in window boxes, palms, rubber plants and cacti may be grown in pots. It is advisable in growing all these plants to make use of regular florists' potting soil, made up of one part compost, one part good loam and one part sand. It is well to add one-twentieth part bone meal to the mixture.

AGED MAN FOUND IN WOODS

Wealthy Chicagoan Expected to Recover From Exposure.

Duluth, Nov. 15.—Horace Jackson, sixty-three years old, wealthy member of the Chicago board of trade, was found in the woods north of Ely, where he had been lost since Friday. He was in an exhausted condition, but friends here have been informed that after a few days' rest and medical attention he will recover.

Jackson was found by experienced woodsmen, who were sent out as searchers. A systematic search had been conducted since Saturday.

Circassian Walnut.

That popular wood for furniture, Circassian walnut, is sold by the pound or the ton and not by the foot. As early as 116 B. C. it was introduced into Italy from Persia. Russia is the chief source of Circassian walnut. The logs are so heavy that they will not float and are sold from the forest with their bark on. Only the heart of the wood is used, and it is the crooked irregular logs that possess the best figured wood. Even very old trees rarely have a clear length of more than ten feet.

IN OUR great-great-grandfathers' time many New England families had a cask of rum in the cellar.

It was freely offered to guests (except children) and freely partaken of, even as coffee is today.

This old-time custom gradually passed out of existence, for our forefathers recognized it was harmful.

Another old-time custom—coffee drinking—is slowly passing in the same fashion and for the same reason.

The abandonment of coffee drinking is made easy nowadays by the use of Instant Postum, the pure cereal beverage with the coffee-like taste.

Unlike coffee, this purely American table drink contains no "caffeine" or other harmful substance.

Postum is now used daily in tens of thousands of the best of American homes where reason rules and health is valued.

JOINT CONFERENCE CERTAIN TO END SOON

Washington, Nov. 20.—Armed with President Wilson's complete approval of his course, Secretary Lane will return to Atlantic City today, determined to bring the sessions of the American-Mexican joint commission to an early conclusion.

He still is hopeful an agreement as to the border situation can be reached, but it was clearly indicated in official circles that the joint conference is entering on its final phase, agreement or no agreement.

Army officials believe the American expeditionary force soon will be moving toward the border, regardless of the turn events may take at Atlantic City. In its present position, many officers hold the expedition would be of no strategic value should general hostilities break out.

If the commission dissolves, it is believed there will remain no reason for keeping the expedition where it is.

159 DEAD IN MEXICAN WRECK

Many Others Seriously Injured When Train Rolls Down a Cliff.

Laredo, Texas, Nov. 20.—One hundred and fifty-nine persons were killed and many more or less seriously injured in a railroad wreck on the Inter-oceanic line to Vera Cruz, between Delmas and San Miguel, near Jalapa, Nov. 12, according to reliable reports received here.

The wreck is said to have been due to the engineer running at too high a rate of speed over a dangerous part of the road.

According to this information all except one of the five cars of the train left the track and rolled over a cliff. The passengers were literally ground to pieces. No Americans were among the dead, it was said.

WEST LOOMS BIG ON POLITICAL MAP

May Furnish Next G. O. P. Presidential Candidate.

SENATOR BORAH TALKED OF

Big Vote Both Candidates For President Received Due to Fact That Many States Had Granted Suffrage to Women—Small Hope of Republicans Capturing Senate.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, Nov. 20.—[Special.]—For four years the Republicans will hunt for a hero. After the election of 1912 they indulged in the same pastime with the object of finding a man upon whom the standpatters and the Progressives could unite. Then came the election of 1914, and it was thought that they could elect any one they should nominate. By the time the convention of 1916 was held they discovered that it was necessary to nominate a man who would secure the support of Roosevelt and prevent his running on a third ticket. Hughes was that man. It may be that Hughes will again be the man of the hour, and the Republicans may look forward to 1920 with the same candidate as the standard bearer. But it is not probable. Hughes has not the same hold upon the people as Bryan and Roosevelt.

Looking to the West.

As the Democrats won their victory in the west, it is natural that the Republicans will look to the west for a candidate. The man who looms large in the western states during the next four years has a good chance to secure the Republican nomination.

Hiram Johnson is the largest figure in the west at present, but the charge that he was responsible for the defeat of Hughes in California will militate against him. More than that, it is safe to predict that Johnson's course in the senate will alienate many Republicans in a few years.

Borah a Possibility.

Senator William E. Borah was much in the public eye during the early stages of discussion of presidential candidates in 1916, and it is possible that he may become an important figure in the next campaign. Perhaps it will no longer be said that a man from a small state and in the Rocky mountain region cannot be considered. Perhaps Borah may be considered as the man who represents the progressive ideas prevailing in the west and which seem strong enough to elect a president.

Bear This In Mind.

During the four years in which much legislation was passed, much of it under the whip and spur of President Wilson, nearly all measures were supported by Republicans in both senate and house. It is true that the Adamson law had only La Follette's vote on the Republican side in the senate, but there was a mighty strong Republican vote for the measure among Republicans in the house. Bear in mind that this cut quite a figure in the recent election.

The Big Vote.

It must be remembered that the big vote both presidential candidates received was due not only to the interest in the election, but to the fact that many states had "doubled up" since the last election by granting suffrage to women. The increase in five states follows: Arizona, 28,000; California, 300,000; Kansas, 254,000; Montana, 63,000; Oregon, 130,000; Washington, 209,000. President Wilson's pluralities were increased largely by the women votes, which were cast for him on the peace issue.

In the southern states, where the Republicans have no organization and cast very few votes, Wilson received about 150,000 more votes than four years ago.

Canadian Sympathy.

Sympathy with Canadians and a pro-ally feeling on account of Canadians who had died and were wounded in the British cause had some effect upon the election. It accounts to some extent for the comparatively small Republican pluralities in Maine and Vermont, the close vote in New Hampshire and the reduction of the Republican vote in counties along the Canadian border in all the states touching the Canada line. It was another phase of the peace issue.

Looking Forward.

Based on the vote of the recent election, the Republicans do not gain much hope in looking forward to the next election with a view of capturing the senate. It looks as if they again might "break even" in the senate, losing some seats and gaining some. Of course in the case of a landslide they would win enough of seats to gain control. It was only a landslide which would have won them the senate this year. It is true if they could have held the Republican seats in states like Rhode Island, Delaware, Utah and New Mexico they would be in better shape two years hence.

Lane and Baker.

Secretary Lane and Senator Phelan are jointly interested in the victory of the Democrats in California. Both had a hand in it. Lane and Baker are the only cabinet officers in northern states that scored Democratic triumphs.

BANDITS MURDER AGED AMERICAN

Burn Body of Unidentified Yankee Slain at Jimenez.

REFUGEES TELL SAD STORIES

Two Mexican Wives of Chinese and Their Children Are Thrown Alive on Fire and Cremated—Four Americans Under Guard at Parral.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 20.—An unidentified American was killed when a Villa band took Jimenez, and four Americans were seen under a guard of bandits at Parral during Villa's occupation of that town, according to reports, believed by federal agents to be authentic, brought to the border by refugees.

Refugees further state that the district between Parral and Jimenez has been cleared by Villa's followers of more than 200 Chinese. The American killed at Jimenez was described as about sixty years old and known to be from Torreon on his way to Chihuahua City. He was murdered, the refugees said, in the Jimenez hotel and his body lay for some time in front of the building, when, after being robbed of clothing and valuables, it was placed on a bonfire.

The same refugees also say that two Mexican women who had married Chinese and their five half Chinese children were found and thrown alive into the fire and cremated in sight of the crowd. The bodies of the seven murdered Chinese, according to the same authority, were seen in the streets of the town.

Two Mexicans who escaped from Parral affirm that they saw four Americans there under a Villa guard. They also said they heard that the Americans working at the Alvarado mines escaped the bandits.

Another report brought to the border was to the effect that the bodies of thirty-five Gypsies of both sexes were seen on the roadside near Parral, murdered and robbed by Villa bandits.

All foreigners that Villa has caught, except the Japanese and Germans, have been put to death, the reports agree, and even the Germans are said to have suffered, at least in the instance of Theodore Hoemuller of Parral. Various reports of Hoemuller's death have been received here during the past week.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 16.—"For twenty-five years I have attended the sessions of the North Dakota legislature, and I never have seen a place where the spirit of evangelism was needed more," said Mrs. Eliza Preston Anderson of Fargo, N. FOUR KILLED IN AUTO RACE

Los Angeles Driver Swerves From Course and Causes Fatalities.

Santa Monica, Cal., Nov. 20.—Four persons were killed, one a woman, and three were injured in the seventh annual international prize automobile race here. The event was won by Johnny Aiken, driving as a relief for Howard Wilcox.

Lewis Jackson, a Los Angeles driver, on the thirteenth lap swerved into one of the palm trees lining the course and caused his own death and that of three others.

His Will.

"She's like all the other women." "In what way?" "She imagines all a man has to do to get his salary raised is to ask for it."

"Well?" "And I can't convince her that the boss won't give me more money unless I earn it. She insists on blaming me because we're poor."—Detroit Free Press.

A Profitable Reduction.

The capitalist knew that the new company was spending too much money; also he knew that in some way they had got to put a stop to it. So anxious was he to reduce expenses that he offered his private secretary $25 a month extra if he could find a way to cut down current expenses.

The young man overhauled his accounts, but he failed to find a single expense that he could be judiciously cut down. Just as he was about to give up the promised increase in salary it occurred to him that he was already getting $80 a month. Brimming over with enthusiasm, he sought the capitalist.

"I have found a way," he said. "You can save $10 a month on me. I have taken that amount off my salary." It took the capitalist just about a tenth of a second to see that the young man was still $15 a month ahead, but the bargain stood.—New York Times.

Minneapolis is "Dialed"

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 20.—Minneapolis dialed it today. While the city slept, the Tri-State Telephone Co. cut over its entire Minneapolis local telephone exchange to the automatic connection system. The "hello girl" of the manual system passed into history in the Tri-State office. St. Paul telephones had been cut over to the automatic system several weeks ago. Northwestern phones in both cities retained the girls.

Every girl we employ can stay with our company if they want to," Manager A. C. Brookshaw of the Tri-State Co. said today. "But most of them don't want to stay with us anyhow. They want to get married. Some of them will. The average length of service of a telephone girl is only 13 months anyhow."

FARMERS PREDOMINATE JURY

Two Men Were Charged With Riotously Assembling With Others, Violence Against Blanchet

JURY WHICH WILL TRY JOHN PERICH

1. John C. Back, shopman, Brainerd.
2. George Morcomb, farmer, lives north part of county.
3. Jacob Palmer, farmer, Deerwood.
4. Wm. H. Nelson, former clerk Brainerd Grocery Co.
5. Frank Benjamin, farmer, St. Mathias.
6. George Spees, farmer, Red Sand lake.
7. Charles O. Carlson, farmer, Deerwood.
8. P. A. Erickson, florist, Brainerd.
9. H. Gage, farmer, Long Lake.
10. Herman Ackerman, farmer, Fairfield.
11. B. O. Busby, farmer, section 24, South Long Lake.
12. W. H. Cooper, farmer, Pequot.

District court this morning was given over to the start of the trial of John Perich, Industrial Worker of the World, organizer, charged with inciting riot on August 11 at Crosby at the time of the miners strike.

Five men were arrested at the time and three were discharged at the preliminary hearing in municipal court in Brainerd. That left Perich and Mike Popovich to face the court and they demanded separate trials.

The indictment charges Perich with riotously assembling with Daniel Evelich, Emil Vishnick and others, of disturbing the peace by using force and violence against L. P. Blanchet.

John A. Keyes, of Duluth, is the attorney for the men accused, and is assisted by A. W. Uhl, now of St. Paul and formerly municipal judge in Crosby. The state is represented by County Attorney S. F. Alderman.

Nine jurors were selected before 11 o'clock this morning. One man, Thomas Jones, was challenged for actual bias by the state. The defendant's attorney denied the charge and it was found true by the court, Judge W. S. McClenahan.

Out of the first nine accepted six are farmers. Andrew J. Swanson was excused preemptorily by the state.

Shortly before noon three more jurors were added, completing the number. It makes the total number of farmers on the jury nine.

The state opened its case and then an adjournment was taken to the afternoon. At 1:30 this afternoon John A. Keyes, attorney for Perich, objected to the introduction of any evidence on the ground that the indictment failed to state any public offense had been committed. This was being considered by the court at 2:30 in the afternoon.

ATTRACTIVE DISPLAY

Fred Sundberg, Former Brainerd Boy Gains Praise for Window Decoration (Frazee Press)

Fred Sundberg, the druggist at the Frazee Drug Co., has fixed up a very attractive display window for the White Pine Cough Syrup. The window has been decorated with white pine boughs and at the bottom cotton batting has been arranged to represent snow. Standing in the center is a miniature load of logs onto which is hitched a team of four white horses. Forming a border for this center piece is a row of bottles of the medicine. The display is certainly very unique and attractive.

Mr. Sundberg formerly worked at Lammon's pharmacy in Brainerd.

TWO GIRLS ARE ATTACKED BY MAN

Bearded Stranger Grabs One and Drags Her Screaming to the Steps of Public Library

NEIGHBORS HEARD THE CRIES

Other Girl Kicked and Fought Until the Man Released Her Fainting Companion

Brainerd and its dark streets came near being the primary cause of a tragedy Sunday night between 9 and 10 o'clock, when two young girls were attacked by a bearded stranger and one of the girls was dragged screaming for help to the steps of the public library.

Her girl companion fought and kicked and eventually succeeded in releasing her friend. The girl first seized had her cries shut off by the vicious stranger who half strangled her with his hold on her neck.

The girls, whose names are not mentioned to avoid further publicity, had been down town to mail a letter and were on their way home when attacked near the library. Neighbors heard the cries for help and opened their doors and the light streaming out and men rushing to the rescue caused the assailant to beat his retreat, which was easy as he simply slipped away in the darkness.

The girls were half paralyzed with fright and so hysterical neither could speak for some time until revived by the kindly help of friends. Their families were telephoned to and escorted from their homes accompanied them back.

"Women should carry guns and learn how to use them. That's the only solution with Brainerd dark as it is," said a determined Brainerd woman today.

ONE THING AFTER ANOTHER

Oscar Arneson, Conducting Land Sale Misses Train, Has Blowout on Car, Makes Home

It was a case of one thing after another with Oscar Arneson of the state auditor's office, who conducted a land sale in Brainerd Saturday and missed his train in the afternoon. County Auditor Mahlum and Mr. Arneson engaged an automobile from a farmer to take them to Little Falls where Mr. Arneson could catch a main line train.

The auto, a Ford, got as far as Barrows and sustained a blowout. Clyde Parker came along in his car, picked up Mr. Arneson and carried him to Little Falls. Mr. Mahlum picked up a ride from another farmer and got back to town.

The Ford owner made Brainerd on his rim, pounded it to pieces and was out a tire and a rim and went to Charles Stadbauer for repairs.

"Tell you how it is, Charley," he said, "I've had the car two years and only paid 70c for repairs and I felt I had that blowout coming anyway."

WORLD FOOD FAMINE PREDICTED IN ROME

Rome, Nov. 20.—Rigid economy throughout the world in the consumption of food, in view of the deficient crops and the extraordinary requirements of the European armies, is urged by the International Institute of Agriculture, which has made the most extensive report it has issued since the war began.

The institute says all nations are confronted with a grave situation. It is estimated that at least 2,300,000,000 bushels of wheat will be consumed in the year ending July 31, 1917, and at the end of this period the world's surplus supplies of wheat will have decreased to 45,000,000 bushels.

The report says it is only on account of the fact that last year's harvest was abundant, leaving a balance of 250,000,000 bushels, that there is available sufficient wheat for the year ending next July.

Deutschland Will Make Early Departure Despite Court Action.

New London, Conn., Nov. 20.—Liber proceedings instituted here against the Eastern Forwarding company, owners of the German submarine freighter Deutschland will not delay it from again starting on the homeward voyage to Bremen. This was made plain when the forwarding company's officials were given to understand that furnishing of sufficient bond to cover any possible damage proceedings by owners of the tug T. A. Scott, Jr., sunk on the Deutschland's interrupted dash Thursday, would be acceptable.

An interesting part of the proceedings is that if the matter goes into court the exact building cost of the big submarine and the value of its cargo may be brought out.

RECORD SPELLS FINE SUCCESS

C. A. Darling, of Brainerd, Has Risen from Newsboy to Assistant Circulation Manager

ON THE DULUTH NEWS TRIBUNE

Mr. Darling Announces a Carrier's Contest in Brainerd and the Prizes to be Awarded Brainerd boys just have a habit of making a success in life in whatever lines you place them. A case in point is the review of the life work of C. A. Darling of this city.

Nine years of age he was selling Duluth News Tribunes like the dozen other bright, little carriers in Brainerd. At 17 he was on the road soliciting for the Duluth morning daily. He was advanced to the position of traveling news dealer representative and had the states of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota. Last June he was promoted to a position in the Duluth office and was made assistant circulation manager where he has scored a brilliant success.

"How do you account for your rapid rise?" was asked Mr. Darling.

He was very modest about it. He said he just worked as hard as he could and gave his whole attention to every detail. That covered it in a nut shell, kind reader. He gave his attention to the little things, and the big job came along and he filled his station with satisfaction to his employers.

When the Minnesota boys were ordered to the front, Mr. Darling saw that the News Tribune was present in abundant copies at every station where the boys recruited. Election day in Brainerd he had the News Tribune at all centers to cover heavy street sales.

A meeting of News Tribune carriers was held today at their Brainerd branch, 566 Front street, at which time a carrier's contest was announced by Assistant Circulation Manager C. A. Darling. A number of boys were in attendance and each signified his intention of putting forth every effort to make himself a winner.

Among the prizes to be awarded are novelty wool sweaters, Nov. coin holders, etc. The contestants are Robert Clark, Paul Smith, Donald Clark, Harlow Coppersmith, Albin Danielson, Dan Marken, Frank Eathen, John Canfield, Henry Kinball, John Wells and Fred Johnson, all hustling young business men. Considerable enthusiasm is looked for.

Circulating Libraries.

Long before the Revolution a young printer in Philadelphia when he had taken off his working apron at night used to sit poring over his dozen of old volumes by firelight. He soon knew them by heart and hungered for more. But books were costly, and he had but little money. He had eight or ten cronies, young men who, like himself, were eager for knowledge. Ranging his books on a shelf, he invited his friends to do the same, that each of them might have the benefit of them all. Ben Franklin thus laid the foundation of the first circulating library in this country.

Sing Sing Retrospection.

In the Star of Hope, published by convicts in Sing Sing prison, are these reflections:

There never yet was a chance for the man who mixed whisky and good intentions. Crime is like the fellow who cheats at cards—nobody wants him in the game.

The amount of money that can be made in a life of crime would never pay the interest at 1 per cent on the sum a man can make by honest endeavor.

A New York man says he can't pay any more alimony because when he works he gets nervous. And when he gets nervous he can't work. It looks bad for the alimony.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

FLIGHT RECORD IS SHATTERED BY GIRL

Binghamton, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Attempting a non-stop flight from Chicago to New York, Miss Ruth Law, guiding a Curtiss biplane of the military scout type, shattered all American long distance aviation records for a single flight when she flew from Chicago to Hornell, N. Y., a distance by railroad of 662 miles, bettering by about 100 miles the record made by Victor Carlstrom Nov. 2.

A delayed start and a cross wind that cut down her speed and forced her to descend to replenish the gasoline supply were responsible for her failure to reach New York City.

Previous to this effort Miss Law had never made a single flight longer than twenty-five miles. Her machine was not specially designed for the occasion. The Chicago to New York flight, which was arranged by the Aero Club of America, was considered a joke by professional aviators.

After replenishing her supply of gasoline, Miss Law flew the remaining 117 miles to Binghamton, arriving here at 4 without mishap. Darkness forced her to descend.

Very Like a Church.

It is always a delight to keep in track with the topographic notions of people in the streets. I have heard some queer things, but I put this first: They were two women, and one seemed to be showing the other the sights. As we passed Westminster abbey the novice said, "That looks like a church."

"Yes," said the other; "I think it is a church."

Expert Advice For the Automobile Owner

Queries and Replies Covering Matters of Importance to the Man Who Runs a Car

My car has always used too much cylinder oil. I recently had nonleaking packing rings applied, one in each piston, and a new set of rings applied, although the old ones were good and the cylinders are not worn a particle and the tool marks not defaced. I have tried various kinds of oil, but get no results. Can you suggest something that will prevent the oil from getting by the packing rings and fouling the spark plugs and the valves?

It is possible that the cylinders have been worn out of round or that the pistons are a bad fit in the cylinders. A good mechanic should be able to micrometer the pistons and cylinders and determine whether or not this is the trouble. If the cylinders are in good shape and the pistons are a sloppy fit the remedy is to St. oversize pistons. If the cylinders are scored to such an extent that the leakage you describe occurs the only remedy is re-boring of the cylinders and fitting of new pistons.

Can you give me a list of things which might cause a knock in a motor? Worn crank shaft bearings, worn connecting rod bearings, worn wrist pin bearings, pistons loose in the cylinders, broken piston rings, preignition caused by carbon deposits in cylinder head, the spark advanced too far, too rich a mixture, scored cylinders or loose motor supports.

My car has poor compression on all but one cylinder when cold, but does not show so much difference when hot. I have had the head off and ground the valves. I think it is in the gasket joint, as the old gasket showed black carbon streaks, especially between the cylinders. It has not the power it should have and has run only 2,200 miles. Would it help to put in two gaskets and shellac all of their sides or is there anything else that will make it hold?

Since the old gasket shows carbon streaks it is quite likely that you are right in your surmise that the car is losing power due to leakage. The new gaskets well shellacked may remedy the trouble; also, go over the intake manifold connections very carefully and be sure that there are no air leaks around these.

Please advise me as to the use of naphthalin or naphthalene with flakes in gasoline for increasing mileage and as a carbon remover. It has been recommended to use a teaspoonful to every five gallons of gasoline, and I am told that this substance is put up under many names and sold for that purpose. Please advise me as to its quality, and how does it work?

The use of naphthalene or, as it is commonly known, camphor, is not recommended in gasoline. As a matter of fact it will deposit as much carbon as it will remove and will result in a sooted engine. A simple experiment which will readily show you the carbon forming tendencies of camphor may be performed by simply holding a camphor or moth ball over an open flame. The carbon will leave the camphor in long, stringlike formations.

I am having trouble with sticking valve stems on my car. Every 1,500 to 2,000 miles carbon has to be burned out, valves ground and valve stems cleaned and some of them straightened. I am using a high grade medium oil. The repair man says that the piston rings are not at fault. Would new valve stems be advisable? The car has been run 15,000 miles.

It would be advisable to try relieving the valve stems, making them one sixteenth of an inch smaller in diameter for a distance of one and one-fourth inches downward from underneath the head. This should give more room for any carbon accumulation and ought to prevent the valves from sticking.

It might possibly be advisable to try relieving two or three of the valves and see whether this makes those particular valves perform satisfactorily without relieving all the lot.

If you have to have carbon burned out every 1,500 to 2,000 miles it is difficult to believe that you are not getting too much oil into the cylinders. Some of the patented rings are very successful in reducing the amount of oil that reaches the cylinder head, and I think you would be well advised to try at least one patent ring on each piston.

I have a six cylinder car and when running idle No. 6 cylinder will not fire but when given more throttle it runs smoothly if speeded up. There is the same compression in this cylinder as in the others. Can you tell me the trouble?

This probably is due to manifold trouble. If the motor is in sound condition throughout. The manifold may have acted satisfactorily with the gasoline secured at the time you bought the car, but with the present heavy grade the probabilities are that a good firing mixture is not obtained at idling speeds in the No. 6 cylinder. It is suggested, however, that before giving up the idea of remedying the trouble you remove the piston from No. 6 cylinder and examine it for sandholes, especially under the rings, and also examine the rings for bearing surface around their entire circumferences.

What steps are necessary in vulcanizing casings? Must the casing always be removed from the wheel?

For vulcanizing casing cuts it is not always necessary to remove the tire from the wheel. Apply from one to three layers of cement, allowing each to dry. Fill the hole not quite level with the surface with scraps of Para rubber. The best results are obtained when casing repairs are slightly concave. If filled too full the rubber will expand and flow over on to the unprepared surface in a thin film that will soon peel up and cause trouble. Moreover, the protruding plug will receive more than its share of hammering and will undoubtedly split open. Be sure when mending a sand pocket to stop the hole where the dirt entered, as it may be a foot away from the sand pocket.

After preparing the tube or casing and while waiting for it to dry screw the handle firmly into the vulcanizer; then, if mending a tube, stand the vulcanizer vertically on a bench, running board or floor and remove the casing chain and bolts from the tube plate. When repairing a casing turn the swivel plate so that the projection with the round hole is on the same side of vulcanizer as the handle. Clamp the plate in this position so that it cannot revolve and insert one chain bolt through round hole and attach thumb nut. Then take the vulcanizer in the left hand, place the curved side against the vulcanizer and the repair, bring the chain around the felloe and hook the other bolt into the forked projection on the other side of the plate and then screw the vulcanizer firmly but not too tightly on the tire.

After the vulcanizer is in position for action remove the cylindrical lamp and, holding it at an angle of about forty-five degrees, pour the fuel on to it from the brass measure. If you use alcohol get the correct amount by placing your finger over the lower hole and filling the measure until the fuel runs out of the upper hole.

Insert the lamp into the vulcanizer and ignite at the hole just above the lamp. The vulcanizer operates most satisfactorily, of course, if sheltered from drafts.

In exceptional cases, for instance, when vulcanizing a very deep casing cut or a tire that is at freezing temperature, a slightly additional amount of fuel, probably not over one-eighth inch, may be used to compensate for the extra heat required to bring the tire to normal temperature. But after a few operations your experience will make you the best judge as to quantity. On the other hand, when making several repairs in succession cool the vulcanizer after each one by immersing in water, and should the continued use of low grade fuel produce a sufficient deposit of soot in the vulcanizer to interfere with the draft clean the flue.

Whatever has been done to the tire, whether in the garage or on the road, it will be necessary after the job has been completed to inflate it once more, and do not fall into the habit of a vast number of motorists of simply blowing it up and letting it go at that. Careless guesswork concerning the right amount of air in a tire is the cause of many troubles. Too little air in a tire causes rim cutting, breaking of the side walls, fabric separation and ruin for any make of pneumatic tire. Too much air makes the riding rough and thus defeats the very purpose of the pneumatic tire. The tire should always "give" a little under a load, but mere inspection or guesswork is not a reliable inflation test. Carry a pressure gauge and when inflating do so to the indicated number of pounds, or else use a tire caliper, which gives you the correct inflation for any tire.

What would the crank shaft of an ordinary eight cylinder engine look like if all the cylinders were put in line? Is there any angle other than 180 degrees between the different crank pins?

The simplest way would be to have all the cranks in the same plane just like two four-cylinder crank shafts together. An arrangement with the cranks at ninety degrees would, however, be possible. The easiest way to explain it is to say that with eight cylinders in line you have the equivalent of two four-cylinder engines coupled together, and you can regard the first four cylinders as one engine and the second four as the other, or you can regard cylinders Nos. 1, 3, 5 and 7 as one four-cylinder engine and 2, 4, 6 and 8 as the other.

What is the best method of removing tar or tarvia from my car? I recently had to drive twice a day for two weeks over a road freshly covered with it. The chassis is absolutely covered and the body not much better.

Soap and water used promptly will generally remove tar or tarvia. It can also be softened by the application of butter or oleomargarine without damage to the varnish.

Another good solvent is cocoa butter, which is used in the theatrical profession for removing grease paint. This can be purchased in some drug stores and is a harmless solvent for all kinds of oil and grease as well as tar.

RAIL UNIONS AND A. F. OF L. IN PACT

Four Brotherhoods Unite With Federation at Washington.

FORESHADOWS 8-HOUR FIGHT

Officials See Menace in the Joining of 800,000 Men—Fear Renewal of Traffic Strike Peril—Two-fold Object in View.

Washington, Nov. 20.—A significant and far reaching alliance was contracted here between the railroad department of the American Federation of Labor and the four train service brotherhoods, whose nation-wide strike threat last August necessitated the passage of the now disputed Adamson wage law.

This affiliation joins in a common cause approximately 800,000 railroad workers, a little less than half the total number of all those who are employed in the railroad industry throughout the country.

Object is Two-Fold.

Although no definite statement is obtainable, no doubt is entertained in Washington that the object of the alliance is two-fold, to strengthen the brotherhoods' demand for an eight-hour basic day and to aid in a movement of the other organized railway workers for the same concessions.

Officials at the capital regard this new alliance as exceedingly ominous in the light of the controversy over the Adamson law, which, it is feared in some quarters, may again bring the country face to face with a national transportation strike.

Brotherhoods Are Active.

The formation of the Brotherhood Federation alliance was not the only salient happening in the railroad labor situation. In fact, things began to happen immediately after the arrival of the four brotherhood presidents, William G. Lee of the trainmen, Warren S. Stone of the engineers, W. S. Carter of the firemen and L. E. Shepard, acting for A. B. Garretson of the conductors.

The four brotherhood presidents held an extended meeting at the old National hotel with their four legislative representatives to discuss their campaign in the coming session of congress against what they consider obnoxious proposals.

Announcement was made that the four chiefs would address the convention of the American Federation of Labor at Baltimore.

CONTRACTOR IS SENTENCED

Wealthy Winnipeg Man Given Two and One-Half Years.

Winnipeg, Nov. 20.—Thomas Kelly, wealthy Winnipeg contractor, denied a new trial by the supreme court at Ottawa, was sentenced to serve two and one-half years in the penitentiary by Justice Prendergast.

Kelly was convicted on charges arising from alleged fraudulent dealings in connection with contracts for the Manitoba parliament building. The specific charge was obtaining money by false pretenses.

His conviction followed a long legal battle, in which it was charged by the government he entered into a conspiracy to defraud the province in the erection of the parliament buildings here.

BOY KILLS HIS AGED MOTHER

Minneapolis Youth, Mind Unbalanced. Strikes Parent With Hammer.

Minneapolis, Nov. 20.—As Mrs. Anna S. Larson, sixty years old, was sitting down to the table for supper, her son Fred, nineteen years old, entered the room with a hammer in his hands and struck her from behind, crushing her skull.

She died three hours later at the Minneapolis City hospital.

The son had been acting queerly for a year, it is said, but the mother refused to have him taken to an asylum. After striking his mother the boy ran from the house. The police are searching for him.

CAR SHORTAGE HITS LUMBER

Production Falling Off Seriously in the Northwest.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 20.—The car shortage in the Pacific Northwest has reached a point where it is restricting production of all forest products, according to the weekly trade report of the West Coast Lumbermen's association.

At 124 mills the balance of unshipped orders for transcontinental rail delivery has reached 10,425 carloads, not including unshipped orders for shingles, sash, doors and other factory material.

Wire Tappers Get $7,000.

Des Moines, Iowa, Nov. 20.—John Swanson, a Huron, S. D., farmer, was swindled out of $7,000 by fake wire tappers on the old race track game, according to information he gave the police here.

WEATHER AND APPETITE.

People Eat More on Stormy Days Than They Do on Fine Days.

Watch what you eat the next time it rains or snows. Perhaps you think the weather takes away your appetite. It doesn't. It makes you eat more. The American Magazine explains what weather does to the restaurant business. The writer says:

"A study of weather and business has its surprises. For instance, restaurant men know that appetites are not the same on a dark, gloomy day as on a day that is bright and cheerful. Natural enough! The surprising fact is that people eat most on the day that is dark and dismal."

"On a cloudy day," an old restaurant man tells me, "people just sit and eat. There is nothing else to do. On a nice day they eat less and hasten out into the open. But the less they eat the more particular they are about the quality."

"Not so long ago a young woman opened a good little restaurant near the department of agriculture in Washington. Most of her customers are employees of that department. She does a big business every day, but the rush is greatest when the day is the stormiest. On a fine day the men from nearby buildings walk to restaurants farther away, just for the exercise. Those who do not go to other restaurants cut down their eating in order to spend all the time possible in the open air."

CALIBER OF A GUN.

What the Term Means as Applied to Artillery and Small Arms.

Confusion as to the meaning of the term caliber arises chiefly from its use as an adjective to indicate length, as when we say "a 50 caliber six inch gun." The word caliber as applied to artillery signifies the diameter of the bore of a gun measured diametrically from face to face of the bore, of course somewhat larger.

A gun, then, of six inch caliber is a gun whose bore is just six inches. For convenience and because the power of a gun when once its bore has been decided upon depends so greatly upon its length artillerymen are in the habit of defining the length of the gun in terms of the caliber.

Thus the twelve inch United States naval gun, which is forty feet in length, is spoken of as a 40 caliber twelve inch, the length being just forty times the bore. The six inch rapid fire gun is a trifle under twenty-five feet in length and is therefore known as a 50 caliber gun.

In the case of small arms the caliber is expressed in hundredths of an inch as when we say a 22 caliber revolver we mean one with a bore that has a diameter of twenty-two one-hundredths of an inch.—Philadelphia Ledger.

The Queen Bee as a Voyager.

Queen bees are sometimes sent on journeys through the post, even being dispatched abroad. It is a long and hard trial to be packed in a crowded mail sack in the recesses of a steamer's hold. To overcome this disadvantage the Italian exporter provides a special car in which her majesty the queen may ride. She and her associates and the little bit of sugar that goes with them are very light, yet the exporter makes a large, cumbersome cage in which she is to ride. The reasons for this are that the box must be strong and the sides must be extended so as to prevent the surrounding mail from becoming too closely packed against it.—London Spectator.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

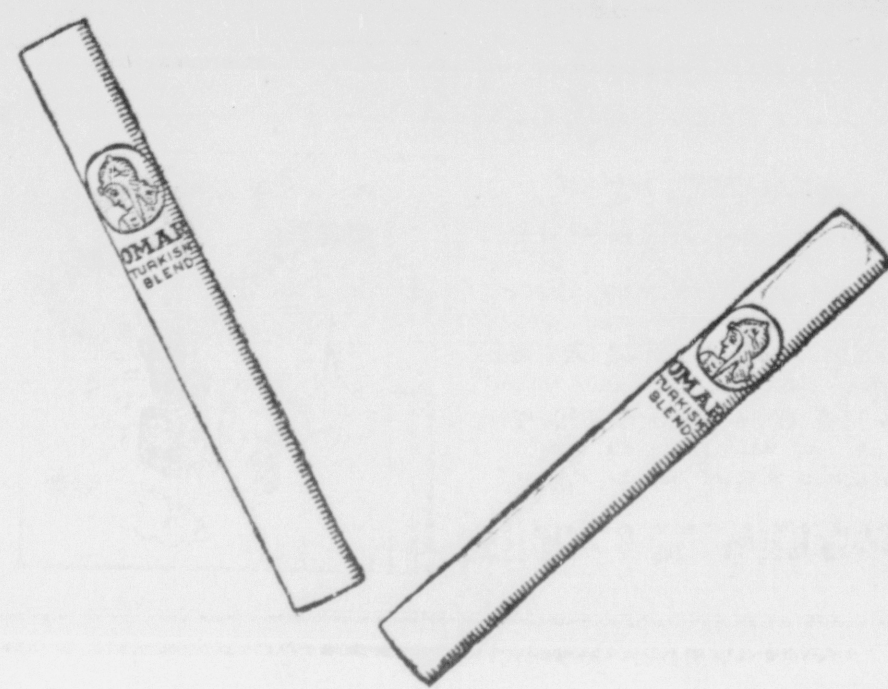

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its sponge-like pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes all denote liver uncleanness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins. Most folks resort to violent calomel, which is a dangerous, salivating chemical which can only be used occasionally because it accumulates in the tissues, also attacks the bones.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, softening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate does not restrict the diet like calomel, because it can not salivate, for it is harmless and you can eat anything afterwards. It is inexpensive and almost tasteless, and any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.
